

FERNSIDE'S OTHER FAVORITES

TITLE	YEAR	AUTHOR	READER/ AUDIENCE
CHARLOTTE AND THE QUIET PLACE* While living in a big noisy city, Charlotte finds her place of inner peace and quiet.	2015	Deborah Sosin	All ages
COURAGE* There are many kinds of courage: extraordinary and everyday. Still, every act of courage is still...courage.	2002	Bernard Waber	Grades K-4
EVER WONDER: ASK QUESTIONS AND LIVE INTO THE ANSWERS* A compilation of thought-provoking questions that encourages self-reflection and pondering about your life.	2001	Kobi Yamada	Teens-Young Adults
THE GREAT BIG BOOK OF FEELINGS* Feelings are identified on each page in a way that is fun, inviting, and conversational for children.	2013	Mary Offman	Grades Pre-5
GRIEF IS A MESS* This book explores how grief is different for everyone. Includes smart and funny illustrations which appeal to all ages.	2015	Jackie Schuld	All ages
GRIEFABET* Griefabet uses the letters of the alphabet to offer comfort and support to anyone working through grief and loss.	2010	Karen O. Johnson	All ages
IT'S NEVER TOO LATE* Written and illustrated as a kid's book for adults, the story acts as a simple yet profound reminder of what matters most in life.	2013	Dallas Clayton	Pre-Teen-Adults
LOVE, HUGS, AND HOPE: WHEN SCARY THINGS HAPPEN* The author creatively guides readers through emotions after loss: fear, sadness, anger. Then, she shares practical and constructive ways to manage feelings and find comfort.	2013	Christy Monson	Elementary
ONCE UPON A MEMORY* This magical story offers insight into the mind of a curious child as he asks questions of the world around him. The book invites the reader to explore and reflect on his/her own memories.	2013	Nina Laden	Grades Pre-2
THE QUIET BOOK* About all the quiet moments a child experiences throughout the day, this book encourages mindfulness of one's thoughts, words, and actions.	2010	Deborah Underwood	Grades Pre-2
SILENCE* This book encourages children to listen and be present to the world around them, leading to the development of their imagination and learning about themselves.	2012	Lemniscates	Grades Pre-3

*Indicates item is available in the Fernside Resource Center. Materials may be borrowed. Please call ahead.